Considers Her Unsettled
Clauses Reduced to Minimum and Unwilling to Brook Further Delay
by Chinese.

Tokio, April 21.—The crisis which has come in the negotiations with China as to the acceptance of the demands of the Tokyo government has been followed by a protracted conference of the cabinet. The members of the "Genro" or the elder statesmen of Japan, have been communicated with on the subject.

The semi-official press expresses the belief that Japan has brought the unsettled clause of her demands down to the irreducible minimum and that in the event of further procrastination on the part of China she probably will press for a reply within a given period of time.

The members of the cabinet this afternoon conferred with the elder statesmen concerning the Chinese negotiations. Interest in the situation in Peking is increasing.

AMERICA HAS OFFICIAL TEXT

Japanese Claim That Their Demands Are Misrepresented
in United States Is Refuted.

Peking, April 21.—Official announcement was made today by the Chinese government that the translation of the full text of the demands made upon China by Japan as already published in the United States was the official translation of the text as the Japanese themselves presented it to the foreign office here on January 28 in both the Japanese and Chinese languages.

This announcement was made by reason of the fact that the Japanese government has repeatedly protested because the Japanese government was informing certain foreign legations as to the progress of the negotiations.

The Chinese government's translation has been carefully checked by a legation which possesses a copy of Japan's text and it is stated at the legation that only the verbiage differs. The legation version is in somewhat harsher language than that of the Chinese government translation.

For example the article in the text which is to provide that China shall agree to the propagation of Buddhism by Japanese subjects in China is translated by the legation to read "shall have the right to propagate religious doctrines."

SIX HUNDRED EDUCATED ANIMALS

Barnes' Circus Has Great Array of Educated Wild Animals—65 Big Acts.

Without doubt some of the most sensational, thrilling, death-defying wild animal acts ever shown are presented by the A. G. Barnes Wild Animal Circus.

Over 600 educated wild and domestic animals are used in giving the performance of this show—the greatest collection of trained animals ever assembled under one management. The Barnes' circus was the original wild animal show and now holds the rank of being the largest aggregation of the character in the world, presenting as it does, more trained animals than all other shows combined.

Sixty-five sensational, amusing, amazing, thrilling acts are presented at each performance. These acts are given in two divisions, the wild animals act in a large steel-barred arena, in the center of the big tent and those of the domestic animals in the regulation sawdust rings at either side of the arena. There is something doing in these two rings and the arena every minute of the three solid hours of entertainment.

The members of the Barnes' animal-acting troupe have been recruited from jungles, plain, desert, forest, ocean and homestead. Lions, tigers, elephants, leopards, jaguars, zebras, hyenas, camels, zulus, monkeys, apes, orangutangs, dogs, horses, ponies, goats, seals and sea lions are members of the troupe—every one trained to perform in his big show is an actor.

One of the greatest features of the show is the troupe of beautiful horses and ponies—550 in number, which for size, beauty and breeding are unrivaled in the entire world. These horses are all shown during the action of the show's program.

The most thrilling wild animal spectacle known is Herr Roth's group of man-eating African lions—24 in number, which he presents in one act. Mlle. Florine, with a group of Persian leopards and jaguars, and Miss Mabel Stark's Royal Bengal and Siberian tigers are also "thrillers" of the first rank. Thirty bear actors among which is Big Bill, the wrestling grizzly, provide another exciting feature. A big herd of posing and comedy elephants also have a headline act.

Fifty comedy animals, including Danger, Dynamite and Mlle. Camint, undrilled mules, provide a clean line of fun.

A glittering, four-band, mile-long street parade is presented at 10:30. Performance will be given here at 2 and 8 p. m. on Tuesday, May 4.

FOREST FIRES STILL BURNING

Woods at Valley Forge
Threatened—Summer Cottages and Other Buildings Burn.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 21.—Despite showers which assisted in the work of extinguishing the flames, forest fires continued to burn last night in many sections of Pennsylvania and southern New Jersey. It was believed, however, that most of them were under control.

Woods in the historic revolutionary camp grounds at Valley Forge were threatened when dry leaves and underbrush were attacked by flames from a fire which started Sunday night at a point several miles away. The Washington headquarters with its collection of valuable relics is more than a mile from the blaze and was not endangered. Undergrowth in the woods on the properties of former Secretary of State Philander C. Knox and General B. F. Fisher were burned but there was no damage to property.

The only damage to property occurred south of Carlisle, where twenty summer cottages, three large ice houses and a number of stables were destroyed.

FURIOUS FIGHT IN TRENCHES

Paris, April 20.—The struggle for possession of the heights which dominate the valleys leading to Altkirch, Muelhausen and Colmar, in Alsace, is being waged with unabated ferocity. The advantage in these conflicts has remained consistently with the French.

A wounded officer who has just returned from the Alsatian front says that after a recent fight the bayonets of the French soldiers were found twisted and in some cases broken off.

The Thirty-first regiment of chasseurs has been mentioned in the order of the day as having covered itself with glory by repeated counter attacks against the enemy, who with superior forces had occupied parts of the French trenches. The chasseurs in a charge took five successive lines of German trenches and made numerous prisoners. At one period one battalion had nearly 700 officers and men out of action.

OGDEN MEN OWN COAL PROPERTIES

Price, April 20.—That the coal and coke trade of Carbon county is steadily improving is evidenced by the fact that at this time 600 ovens are going at full blast at Sunnyside, while the reserve coke stored at that point, and amounting to several thousands of tons, is now exhausted. The market for the product of the Sunnyside ovens, of which there are more than 700, is found at the smelters of Salt Lake valley and at Anaconda and Butte, Mont.

Considerable coal for railroad use on the east end of the Denver & Rio Grande is also coming out of Sunnyside, while something like a dozen cars a day of the Sunnyside product of coal goes to the gas and commercial coke plants of Salt Lake City. Last Saturday was the semi-monthly payday at Sunnyside, when $50,000 was paid out to employees there, after all deductions for the store company, rents and the like were made.

It is safe to say with the outlook before the Utah Fuel company these Sunnyside mines and coke ovens will be kept going pretty steadily all through the summer months. The men are working five days a week at this time, with the prospects of soon getting seven. With the methods in force, however, five working days weekly now means as much in product to the company as did six days formerly. Labor conditions are most satisfactory at this camp and of the 1,500 to 2,000 dwellings for employees but few are unoccupied.

At the Winterquaters, Clear Creek and Castlegate mines of the Utah Fuel company the miners are given on an average of three days a week work. These coals go to the commercial and railroad trade. The production of each of the three is around 1,500 tons daily each. The Independent Coal & Coke company at Kenilworth is working three days a week on the average, as is Jesse Knight's property at Storrs and the Standard Coal company at Standardville, the latter known as the Sweet proposition. Cameron Coal company, now controlled by the Pingree of Ogden and situated in Price canyon just above Castlegate, is getting out about 400 tons daily and working five days a week on the average. The Brownings of Ogden have some valuable adjacent property to the Cameron and next year will see some larger development here, it is said. The American Fuel company at Neslen is going along with a small output, but intends to make some needed improvements and development before doing much toward pushing its product on the markets.
